“One of the best things about a small school is that you are given the opportunity to stand out and stand up for what you believe in.”

“I love being involved in lots of clubs on campus, hopefully I will be able to make a difference somewhere.”

“Really, I’m not sure what I want to do in the future. I definitely want to go to graduate school . . . maybe study law or further my politics degree. Who knows! Whatever I end up doing, I just hope to always be learning more about myself, and growing closer to the Lord.”

FUN FACTS ABOUT YOUR HOME:

♣ Did you know that McKean is the largest residential hall on campus with 115 rooms while Ward has 110 and Elizabeth a mere 77.

♣ The average fraternity house has 22 rooms and the average sorority house has 19 rooms.

In some cases, dorm life can become a bit distracting. Mims Rouse realizes that life in Gale Hall can sometimes be hectic and disrupting, and therefore must seek refuge in the library where he can find a stronger focusing environment.

Rhoni & Robbie Barton, and Nikki White share some time together in an on-campus room. Living on campus gives many the opportunity to be close by friends, and in this case, family.

Michelle Esfahani takes advantage of the small amount of space she has in her dorm room by lofting her bed.

Environment

Lifestyles of the Student Body

By Kelly Rhodes

Through the years, dorm rooms seem to become students' home away from home. Most students choose to live on campus, where a variety of housing arrangements makes each dorm unique. Others opt to live off campus in houses or apartments. A few Orlando area natives even live at home, taking advantage of free laundry and home cooked meals.

Those who live on campus can choose between living in the larger dorms, like McKean or Ward, or specialty housing including; fraternity and sorority houses, Pinehurst, and R.O.C. Two new additions to this list are Harmon and Pflug halls for those with an interest in the theater.

"I like living in my sorority house over the big dorms because it is a lot more laid back and fun," said Lindsay Koch.

Kappa Alpha Theta, one of the sororities on campus, sits among a cluster of greek houses.

One of the many nearby houses rented by students was commonly referred to as the "Yellow House".

Pflug Hall is a dormitory that once was a private residence. It now serves as special interest housing for theater majors.

Some find living on campus too restrictive and move to apartments or houses. Worries about Resident Assistants and Campus Safety are gone, the new troubles arrive with maintenance and bills. One advantage to living off campus is the ability to throw a party whenever you please, as long as the Winter Park Police Department is not invited.

"Living off campus gives me the freedom of more space and my own garage. I can even have my own dogs," jokes Bart Mercer.

All in all, your lifestyle is shaped by your living environment, whether it be study habits, partying, or hanging out. All options have their own advantages and disadvantages, so you must choose wisely to create your own happiness.

SPORTS ON CAMPUS

By Soluna Gandhi

You see them playing football in front of Ward Hall, spiking volleyballs on the courts, tossing frisbees on Mills lawn or hitting balls on the tennis courts. These people are clubs or organizations, they are doing them because they have a little extra time on their hands to enjoy the sports and weather. Many students have found particular interests in the leisure sports they are involved with. They do not participate because they have to or are in competition schools. They participate in various sports. The teams within the school compete against each other for the victory title. There are also volleyball tournament ongoing throughout the year. So if you are looking for a sport or game to play for fun, simply walk outside and it is all around.

These women are among the many students who take advantage of their freetime by gathering a few rays. The school's lake front location gives students an excellent opportunity for boat rides and skiing.

Carrie Oliver, Liz Ramirez, Kim Oram-Smith, and Tory Hayes spend some of their extra time at the bowling alley.

Lacrosse is a popular pastime at school. This freshman was among the many who found the sport both challenging and fun.

Student finds bicycling not only to be a leisure activity, but also a means to keep in shape. Many students choose to participate in activities to remain healthy.

The eight lane olympic size Alford Pool offers a refreshing relief from the hot sun. Many students used the facilities to relax in the everlasting Florida summer-time weather.

Regardless of the Surgeon General's warning about lung cancer, many students chose to continue smoking. This was a widespread habit on the campus.

Some students would not label themselves as smokers. A social smoker, Terri Felton tried Cloves while she was out one night.

By Luis Hernandez

Marlboros, Camels, Newports. Do these words sound familiar? They should since they are the most popular brands of cigarettes smoked on campus. The use of tobacco products varies from student to student. Some are simply social smokers, while many others buy them by the carton. Both groups of students ignore all health risks that tobacco products cause.

The constant buildup of cigarette butts in public ashtrays and walkways just illustrates that smoking is big on campus. Although students who reside on campus are prohibited from smoking in their rooms due to recent state and federal clean air regulations, many disregard the ban.

Cigars have also found recent popularity on campus. While it is not as wide spread as cigarette smoking, this new fad continues to grow. Chewable tobacco is also something used by the males on campus, regardless of the deadly and disfiguring risk it can cause. The use of any one of these products has been proven to cause damage. Because of this, the government warnings should not be taken lightly.

Many Names Same Spírit

By Allison Mains

The sun rises casting a golden glow on the sleeping campus on Sunday morning...but despite appearances, the campus does not lay entirely quiet. From Knowles Memorial Chapel rise voices singing hymns, high heeled shoes click across the brick walk ways on their way to off campus churches, and others stir in their rooms preparing for a day of worship.

Religion is alive and well on and off campus, and Sundays are not the only sacred days here. Rollins is home to many religious groups of all sorts. Christians, Jews, Muslims, Buddhists, and people of various faiths reflect the many facets of religious life.

Campus Crusade for Christ, Intervarsity, the Jewish Student League, various prayer groups, and a Muslim group meet weekly on campus. There are, however, other faiths practiced by students which are not represented by a club. To fit their needs, there are groups located in the Winter Park and Orlando area.

Many students strive to identify themselves and clarify their values through a myriad of different belief systems. The traditional, conservative Christian can be found amongst the busy bustle between classes, and the atheist may be standing only a few feet away. Just as in every other area of life on campus, a close up look at religion can reveal more variety than expected.

AFTER HOURS

Campus and Orlando Diversions

By Soluna Gandi

From going to the movies, kicking back and renting a video, or driving to the beach to catch some waves and sun, students can enjoy Florida's "good life." Those looking for more action can hop over to a club, grab a ride to Church Street, have a couple cocktails at a party, jet over to U.C.F. or dance the night away at Pleasure Island.

Freshman, Danielle Friedman says "There is always something to do in the Orlando area. I can go out every night of the week to a different club and still have a great time. I love going to Pleasure Island because there are so many different clubs in one place, and they all have different kinds of bands. It's great to have everything in one place. Then if I get tired of going out dancing, there are plenty of things I can do and relax at the same time."

Many others feel the same about Orlando. Not only is there things to do in the city, but the campus offers many activities for everyone to enjoy. The Down Under has an air-hockey table, pool tables, and a large screen to watch movies or TV. Many dorms hold special programs for their residents. Finally there are always those crazy fraternity parties to enjoy and meet new people. Whatever the pleasure, everyone can find happiness at night on campus or in Central Florida.

The warmth of the Florida sun is one of the many benefits students on campus enjoy. It also attracts students to take advantage of the sun's rays whenever they want to develop a tan. On a hot sunny day, one is sure to find several students bathing by the Alford poolside, catching some rays. Yet sunbathing has its negative aspects, especially during a time when people are emphasizing the use of sunblock to prevent skin cancer from developing.

Skin cancer, which is largely caused by the sun's ultraviolet rays, is on the rise in the United States and other countries where people flock to the beach on a regular basis. Especially in the South, where weather is intensely warm, the fear of skin cancer has caused many sun block companies to see their sales soar. Whether its Coppertone or Hawaiian Tropic, people are using all brands of sun block in every form for protection.

Sunglasses are also important necessity to have in Central Florida. It is very important that one also protects their vision from the sun's ultraviolet rays. Aside from sun block, one will find many students on campus wearing protective eyewear.

With the depletion of the earth's ozone layer, one will find an increasing number of people becoming more conscious to the health risks in sun bathing. It is recommended that those who spend hours sunbathing each week visit a dermatologist at least twice a year for checkups. It is also important that sunbathers become aware of the sun's dehydrating power, and nourish their bodies with liquids.

The rising risks of skin cancer should not scare us away from the outdoors, only raise our concern for protection. Although the planet's atmosphere is not as it was a century ago, the sun will continue to be present, providing us with the warmth and light that Florida is famous for.

These three students take advantage of the warm Florida sun and the cool lake breeze while trying to improve their tans.

John Smith and Mike Nelson take time off from their busy schedules to catch some rays by the pool.

On a nice day, the bleachers are filled with students trying to get some sun between classes. Some brought homework and other reading materials to try to use their time wisely.

USE & ABUSE

What are the consequences?

By Luis Hernandez

The use of illegal narcotics is something that occurs on every college campus in the United States, even here at our school. While it is not known how many students use and experiment with drugs, it is something that has brought greater concern from many branches of the faculty. A new drug policy was enforced this year bringing harsher consequences to students charged with possession of drugs. Many students believe that drugs such as pot are actually less harmful than alcohol and should be legalized. Besides the use of drugs, alcohol consumption is something that has made this college notorious. In a recent poll held by the Princeton Review, a college research company, we ranked as one of the top 25 schools in the United States in beer consumption. On any single night, you do not have to look far to find a party in the making. "We are in college and what? Most of us will never drink like graduate. Have fun while we can," said Angela Higgs. Beer is not the only form of alcohol on campus. Hard liquor, such as rum, vodka, whiskey, and gin are some of the most consumed forms of alcohol. It has become the task of the Wellness Outreach program to educate and inform students about the risks of drugs and alcohol abuse. With such recent events as the "mocktails" festival held in the fall, where students created non-alcoholic drinks for competition, the Wellness Outreach program has managed to provide students support information in getting over alcoholism and drug abuse.

Some students know the consequences of drinking underage, while others discover them the hard way. Arrests took place often for purchasing and consuming alcohol underage and for fake ID's.

Matt Gabriel and Kit Gray get a little mushy after having a few too many drinks.

Alan O'Neil gets excited when the camera catches him with a bottle of beer at a party. Drinking went on a lot on the campus.

Brian Harper is showing the effects of too much alcohol to his date, Lee West. Unfortunately, he missed out on Santa's appearance at the formal.

Vanessa Garay, Abby Gresko, Julia Jerome, and Eileen Fernandez know that responsible drinking is something that must be enforced by everyone, especially when going out in town in a chauffeured limosine.

Mike Cooper signs off after a brief session of America On-Line. Many students began to explore the vast resources of the internet via major on-line services.

Destin Berthelot is about to join the modern age of electronic communications by picking up an application for a VAX account.

By Iara Peng

The words E-mail, "VAX", and Internet have become increasingly more popular around our campus. Some of us still do not know what they mean, how to get access to them, or even what they do. The VAX is the micro-mainframe that is used as a gateway to the Internet.

Through the terms VAX and Internet are frequently used interchangeably, they are not really the same thing: When connecting to the VAX you are reaching the academic computer. When connecting to the Internet (using e-mail, etc.), you should already be connected to the VAX and now are going beyond it--out into the world.

When you decide that you are ready to enter the world of Internet, you can get a free account through the school--these accounts are free to all students, faculty and staff. Once you have your account, you can use one of the computers in the Bush Lab to e-mail your friends on or off campus.

David Martino and Gus Abbott enjoy good quality time and intellectual dinner conversations while dining at Beans. The cafeteria was usually filled during the day with people eating and socializing.

By Ashley Stearns and Kimberly Stowers

They call it Rose Skillman Hall, we just call it "Beans". The friendly staff and variety of food have made it a popular hangout for students to dine in, grab a snack, or even sit and chat.

In serving so many customers there is always questions of satisfaction. Many students happily feast among the entrees provided, while others scrounge around searching for an end to their hunger. "I have never seen so many strange combinations kids put together to find a good meal. I wonder how much salt and barbeque sauce this place goes through a week," jokes Josh Roth.

Some students prefer to dine at Beans, while others favor the Student Center grill, not to mention the newly constructed Sub Connection. Both offer a change of pace from the standard cafeteria style dining. In addition, outside eating is popular at the Mary Jean Mitchell Green Plaza.

Conveniently located below the Student Center is The Down Under, which provides students with entertainment possibilities and great snacks. Pizza is the mainstay, but many prefer the sundaes and coffees.

From Cornell Cafe to the C-Store, the food provided is rated higher than most other school's. Students have many options to choose from around campus. For those unsatisfied, we can only direct you towards the vast amounts of restaurants located within the area.

So the question must be asked: Is there any truth to the popular poem?

"Yesterday's mashed potatoes are today's shepherd's pie, today's vegetables will be tomorrow's stir fry."

Heather Haskett and LaToya Campbell approaches the meal aisle greeted by a friendly staff member eager to help her with her choice.

Though more students prefer Coke, students such as Jeanmarie Esposito, enjoy the carbonated, yet syrupy beverages that are dispensed by the soda fountains at Beans.

The Mary Jean Mitchell Green Plaza offers students the opportunity to dine and converse in a pleasant outdoor environment. On sunny afternoons, the plaza was packed.

DOING IT safety first RIGHT

By Iara Peng

No person who is sexually active, whether he/she is married or single, black or white, rich or poor, heterosexual or homosexual, young or old, is immune from the risk of obtaining an STD. Public health officials estimate that at least one in four, and perhaps as many as one in two Americans will contract an STD at some point in their lives. Catching even the most treatable STD's can be worrisome because if you've been in the position to pick up a "minor" STD, you've also been at risk for the deadliest of them all--AIDS. Although AIDS and other STD's can be prevented, a combination of social trends continue to fuel their growth. People are having sex at younger ages, being sexually active during their single years, getting married later in life, and divorcing more often. The result is that an increasing number of people are having sex with more partners, which raises their chances of encountering someone who is infected with an STD. In addition, studies show that most people with multiple partners do not use condoms consistently, even though condoms can substantially reduce the risk of infection.

Holly Fortier & Andy Adler share a relationship that goes beyond friendship.

Sharon Stokely proudly displays her engagement ring, which serves as a symbol of the commitment she has recently made with her fiancé.

Fraternity brothers, Ian Garlic and Greg Romagnoli bond by joking around late night at Sig Ep.

But, just how safe are condoms? Certainly not as safe as abstaining from sex or staying with one faithful, uninfected lover. Condoms are not 100% fail-safe. Pregnancy rates among couples using condoms are between 10 and 15 percent. Condom failure is common due to human error as well as product defects. What do students have to say about relationships and sex here on campus?

- "I think the only safe sex is not to have sex before marriage. I think it is safest because you do not have to worry about HIV viruses and you can have a committed marriage in the future."

- "I think sex in the middle of campus would be great!"

- "It's o.k. to have sex in an established relationship, but those people who choose to hook up on Friday nights are just selling themselves short--they are having empty sex."

- "People can do what they want as long as they are safe."

Some students are deciding to abstain from sex until marriage. Others have decided that sexually active relationships are right for them, and some believe sex is healthy for a relationship. If you choose to have sex...be safe.

tudying is an important necessity in order to reach academic success in college. Acquiring academic knowledge is the prime reason students enroll in a college or university. Studying doesn't take away the fun from college, it broadens it.

On an average day one is sure to find students studying in various places throughout campus. Whether if it is the Olin Library at midnight, or on a bench outside Orlando Hall students are actively persuing their academic interests.

Even the shortest gap between classes is an excellent time to study for an exam, quiz, or catch up on some readings. At the Cornell Social Sciences Center, many students use the time gaps between classes to do some last minute studying for upcoming exams and quizzes. Even during lunch, you can students dining and studying at the same time.

The ultimate recognitions for earning excellent or good grades during a semester is the President's and Dean's list, which recognizes students who have managed to "make the grade". Studying allows one to open new worlds, and without good grades students will find it difficult to remain in school. Even if you're not a bookworm, if you take time to study you'll see that it will pay off at the end, especially when you are at your graduation ceremony.

THEATER AT ROLLINS

By Luis Hernandez

Theater has always been a major form of artistic expression on campus. From the Annie Russell Theater to the small and almost unknown Fred Stone Theater, students and faculty have produced many productions throughout the years. Over the years, the Theatre Arts department has produced many famous alumni who have appeared both on Broadway and on film. This year was an interesting and memorable year for the Theatre department. The opening of the Winnie Marden Smith Costume Shop helped the department with a storage place for costumes used in productions. The 75th season of the Annie Russell Theater began with Cabaret, a burlesque show in which dealt with a production was followed by other productions including The Murders of 1940, Winterfest, Orpheus Descending, and Lady from Maxine. These productions and many countless others have made the Theatre Arts department one of the nation's top 25 theater programs in the country according to the Princetown Review. Now that's something to talk about!

Whether it is to make a couple of bucks, or just to explore the job market out there, more students are working. While some have work-study jobs on campus, other students work off campus. While some students prefer to work at the nearby mall or in tourist attractions, other students prefer to work near campus. If you were to walk up and down Park Avenue, you would be sure to find many students working in the boutiques and restaurants that have made that street famous. Other students prefer to work at local theme parks such as Disney World, Sea World, and Universal Studios whenever they have time. While it is difficult to catch up with rising living costs and balancing studies at the same time, many students find that working off campus helps them to survive economically during the year. While some may think that working will take away from the fun that the college has to offer, others see working as the only way to survive financially in today's modern society.

Upon hearing the word "library", many students cringe. Others are not so quick to reject the idea of visiting one. For they have realized what a world of fantastic ideas come from such a place. There are not just books and magazines in the Olin Library, but there is a audio-visual room where students can listen to a tape or watch a movie. Also there is a pillow room where one can study while lying in mounds of pillows. "The pillow room provides a comfortable environment where you can catch up on some reading or take a needed nap," said Nathaniel Eberle.

During midterm and final exams, the library is usually filled with students trying to do some last minute studying. As early as eight o'clock in the morning and up to two o'clock in the early morning hours, students are busy at study stations located throughout the building, studying for an exam or doing research for an upcoming project. In some cases, one will find groups of students studying in the basement study rooms or in the huge study area of the library's tower area. These locations provide students with a relaxing and tranquil study environment, far different from the noise and chaos found in the dorms.

Olin Library has also provided many students with access to other library collections at various colleges and universities throughout the state. Library staff members will be glad to assist students in contacting other institutions such as UCF, Stetson, or Eckerd, to see if they have a specific book or article. Through Olin's Interlibrary loan program with other colleges, it has been able to assist many students in getting necessary materials upon request.

The Olin Library has many state of the art computer catalogs to assist students in locating materials for their research.

Many students enjoy reading magazines and periodicals during their spare time.

The library provides some students with a peaceful and tranquil environment to study.

FOX DAY '96

a day to remember

By Luis Hernandez

While some students played Fox Day roulette, others waited patiently for the day to arrive. On the morning of Monday, April 22, the waiting was over when students sighted the statue of the Fox on Mills Lawn. The bells of Knowles Chapel rang, and by mid-day the campus looked like a ghost town. Many students headed toward local beaches and other area attractions for the day. The beaches of Central Florida are always packed with students on Fox Day, and this year was no exception. Kim Stowers said, "Fox Day couldn't have fallen on a better day. I had two exams and a paper due. Besides, the weather was perfect!" As usual, many people headed to Mills Lawn around five o'clock to attend the campus-wide picnic that unites the entire college community. This event brought students, staff, and faculty members together to enjoy a barbeque picnic outdoors. Since Fox Day was held during the annual Latino festival, LASA provided the crowd at the Fox day picnic with traditional Mexican folk music. Fox Day was a traditional annual Carnival which is sponsored by LASA, a Mexican mariachi band was on hand to play traditional mariachi music during the picnic. After the picnic wound down, the Fox statue was carried off by facilities management workers and placed in storage until next year. Without a single cloud in the sky, beautiful weather, and a wonderful picnic, Fox Day came to an end for another year.

Before they became a success, Hootie and the Blowfish were a group of college students at the University of South Carolina- Charleston. Our own student band, Gum Wrapper Curb, is heading toward a similar road of stardom. The popular group can be found performing at various local clubs and bars such as the Mill and Sapphire Supper Club. With their recent CD release, the band is quickly gaining notoriety around the Orlando area. Many students boast about the band's success. Sarah Sutton said, "I've heard the band play several times, and I know they will make it big one day. Then I can say I knew them when they were just getting started!"

Here's The Scoop With Student Activities

By Luis Hernandez

Student groups have been a part of campus life since the founding days of the college. Students form groups in order to attract others with similar interests or to educate and inform people about important topics. With over 50 clubs available on campus, Student Activities coordinates a fair every September to make new and old students aware of the various groups and organizations on campus. From All Campus Events to X-Club, student groups and organizations registered with the Office of Student Isoke Jacobs and Kim Thoman supervise the Caribbean Student Association's booth.

Lee West and members of Campus Crusade for Christ seek to enlighten students religiously.

Activities, are welcome to promote their organization at the fair. With twelve Greek organizations, four student publications, a college radio station, eight cultural groups, and many other interest groups, students who attended the fair had the opportunity to learn about various interest and social groups. Though the student activities fair was unexpectedly interrupted by a passing rain shower, most students discovered the diversity that exists within their college community.

DIVERSITY

LATIN AMERICAN STYLE

By Luis Hernandez

The topic of promoting diversity events on campus has been the goal of many cultural groups. Every year, the Latin American Student Association (LASA) holds a week long festival appropriately named "Carnival Latino," in which they hope to promote a better understanding of the peoples who live in Latin America. This year, LASA decided to sponsor the Mary Jean Mitchell Plaza that showcased the traditional dances, hats and costumes of Panama. While many think of Panama whenever they hear the word Panama, this country has been able to blend its Iberian, African roots into a visible and vibrant culture. The dancers which performed an audience of students danced to the beat of African drums and harmonies. Wearing the national costumes dancers electrified the audience with their presentation. In addition, LASA also sponsored a guest speaker, a weekend concert, and a movie that all had to do something with the significance of Latin Americans. The funds raised at the concert were donated to benefit rural peasants in Guatemala and the Dominican Republic, who live in dire conditions. The success of Carnival Latino reflects the school's receptive attitude to other world cultures that are different from their own.

The music and dance of the Panamanian dance troupe attracted the attention of many passerbys, including student Monica Bonilla.

The dance troupe's organizer explains to students the significance of the music and national costumes of Panama.

The dance troupe's presentation brought students Valenta Encarnacion, Heather Sapey, Kiomie Johansen, Anne-Marie Puig, Suzy Wong, and Julie Godwin together to learn about the culture of Panama.

Using costumes that have a relevance to Panama's Afro-Iberian roots, the dance troupe performs one of two dances at the Mitchell Plaza.

Helping Others

By Iara Peng and Kimberly Stowers

Taking part in the college experience is more than late night studying and weekend parties. Our community provided many students on this campus a chance to make a difference in someone else's life. Whether that meant getting up at nine a.m. on a Saturday morning to build a Habitat House, or giving blood at one of the blood drives, students have learned the importance of helping others.

During January, several conscientious students travelled to third world countries in efforts to improve the standard of living in those nations. By building medical centers, our students have not only affected the lives of many people, but have also gained personal rewards. On campus, students have also accepted the invitation to take part in community service. Young children anxiously waited for the annual "Halloween Howl" that groups of students eagerly organized. Luis Hernandez said, "More students should try to get involved with community service. It make you feel great, and benefits everyone involved."

Students have a perfect opportunity to give back to the community by taking part in different service projects. Always remember the saying engraved on one of our campus walls, "Life is for Service."

Many students participated in the AIDS Walk that took place in October. This event helped to raise money for much needed research to find a cure for this deadly disease.

Sophomore Rebecca Wentz paints the face of a local child during Halloween Howl. Many children from west Winter Park come to campus every Halloween to join in the festivities.

Senior Leah Martin takes some of her time to donate blood. The local blood mobile makes seasonal visits to campus in order to help keep blood reserves at a satisfactory level.

Students on a J-Term trip to Guatemala assist in the construction of a medical clinic for the country's poverty stricken Mayan population. The results of the project help to make life easier for many Guatemalans.

Catching up with Friends at Alumni Weekend 1994

By Luis Hernandez

After commencement, many graduates lose contact with one another. Whether with a close friend or a fraternity brother, many alumni await their class reunions to catch up with past friends, or to catch them up on news. “As a freshman, I never planned on becoming too involved at Rollins with campus life. I strictly wanted to pass my classes and graduate with a degree. These plans changed, however, when I became aware of the opportunities Rollins has to offer.

During my four years I joined numerous groups while trying to complete my major in the English department. However, my work with the Center for Public Service has been the most rewarding position I have held here. The Center is a terrific resource for finding ways to contribute to the community, and I hope people will continue to take advantage of the great projects CFPS has to offer.

The service projects I encountered on campus were a continuous reminder of the real life issues in our society which are so easily forgotten behind the walls of Rollins College. I believe everyone should volunteer their time at one point in their lives, in one way or another.”

First and foremost, it must be recognized that I attribute my strength and success to the Great Spirit, my Native American heritage, and the community of friends and family I belong to for no endeavor is undertaken solely by oneself, but with the seen or unseen support of others.

I am a full-time day student pursuing a bachelors degree in Environmental Studies, Religion, and Anthropology. In 1995, I received the Theodore S. Darrah Award for Synoptic Studies. This year I received the Charles S. Mendell Jr. Scholarship which enabled me to continue my senior studies.

However, I consider my greatest achievements to be my marriage and my spiritual studies in Totemism, the religion of Native Americans. Through my marriage, I have come, once again, to trust and believe in the inherent goodness of human beings. Through my studies in Totemism, under the guidance of my elder Bill Chance of the Eastern Cherokee, I have reconnected with Mother Earth and awakened to me responsibility in preventing as well as ending both human and environmental devastation. Towards that end, I have joined the United Native Americans of Central Florida. We organized Earth Day to held on campus April 20-21. Also, through daily meditation I have begun to overcome many inner obstacles to my own well being and ability to contribute to the world in a healing manner as opposed to contributing to the trends of egoism and hatred that cross boundaries of ethnicity, gender, and even nations.

My most recent accomplishment is the publication of Portraits: A Face For Every Mask. This collection of poetry represents my journey from an abused child to an empowered adult. It is my personal belief that we cannot begin to heal Earth until we first heal ourselves by mending the rifts within our own psyches. Only then as whole beings can we contribute to the betterment of Earth and all her inhabitants be they animals, plants, entire ecosystems, or human beings.

I am Amy Will and I come to Rollins College from Dunwoody, Georgia. I attended Dunwoody High School, where I played a very active role. I was Student Representative for the Board of Education, Student Government President, Captain of the Tennis Team, Vice-President of National Honor Society, Homecoming Queen, Atlanta Journal Cup winner, among others.

I have continued my active involvement and leadership roles at Rollins. I am a member of Senate and play tennis for the "Tars." Tennis has been a big part of my life since I started playing at seven. Growing up, I was kept busy traveling around Georgia and the South playing tournaments. When deciding which college to attend, tennis played a big part in my decision.

Academics also played a big part in my college choice. I graduated high school with a 3.97 and I was named an honor graduate. I have been able to continue my academic success in college with obtaining a 3.78 the first semester. I am currently in the 3/2 Accelerated Management Program and am majoring in Economics.

The third major part of my college life is the social aspect. I love being around people, and the friends I have made at Rollins are great! I am pledging Kappa Kappa Gamma, and really enjoy hanging out with all the girls in the sorority. Without the great social aspect, college would not be as great as it is!

Rollins College was not first on my list when I was deciding where to seek higher education. In fact, Rollins was not on my list at all. I first attended Montclair State College in New Jersey where I studied theatre and communications through their Honors Program.

After a year of college, I became restless and sought to explore possibilities beyond college. I became an employee for the Disney Stores when they were just getting off the ground and, after a short time with the company, I was promoted, becoming the youngest manager in the company.

I learned a great deal from Disney Stores, including and responding to personnel and guest relations. It was an gained much insight, but after company, I began to feel that college. After leaving Disney, literature as well as served as year at New York University.

It was at NYU that the doctor was awakened once find a campus where I could peers and faculty. It was then love with the campus visited and one season later Bush.

I'm a little older than my experience in the business world. I was able to mesh what I learned outside of college with what I learned at Rollins. I consider myself privileged to have had the opportunity to act as the Biology Interest Group's president, helping to expand the campus-wide recycling program. My experiences working as a peer writing consultant at the Writing Center and as a teacher's assistant in the biology department have only permitted me to gain better insight into student needs. Working with the Los Angeles AIDS Project, UCLA Medical Center and the New York AIDS Walk have offered me further understanding of human needs. It is these experiences that have facilitated my becoming an effective peer mentor, helping new students adjust to an unfamiliar environment.

My experiences in the work force and at Rollins have made me a more driven student with much clearer goals than I had when I first entered college. My interests in biology and medicine are not passing. A year long research project in which I worked to isolate and sequence a specific growth factor has served to reinforce my passion for the sciences. Confident that I want to study medicine, I am looking forward to attending medical school after working for a year with the Centers for Diseases Control in Atlanta, Georgia. I will most likely specialize in immunology, focusing on microbial infections as the inspiration I received through my independent study in molecular medical microbiology continues to grow. My experiences at Rollins have taught me that success is found in what we can do for others. I look forward to continuing my efforts to influence the lives of others, in turn enriching my own perceptions of the world.

Zaiba Malik

Being involved in a variety of activities has always been important to me. Personal involvement with people has always given me tremendous satisfaction, especially knowing I have made a difference in another's life.

I feel each one of us is given a talent and what we do with it ultimately defines who we are. I have been fortunate to travel extensively throughout the world to such places as Indonesia, Hong Kong, Singapore, Egypt, Germany, Turkey, India, England and Greece. I have seen people who are the same yet carry their own uniqueness. These adventures have given me the kind of insight into people and places that one cannot learn in a classroom.

In addition to my travels, I have had the opportunity to work with various relief organizations such as Indian Relief Fund and Benevolence International. These adventures not only provided me with invaluable education, but they developed within me an openness to new ideas, a strong belief in my own principles, and a sincere compassion for others.

Challenging oneself makes a person stronger and it provides a great deal of satisfaction when successful. In addition to being a Biology major, I am currently president of Muslim Students' Association, a Biology teaching assistant, as well as secretary of Biology Interest Group. My fascination with science has been strengthened with my involvement in ground-breaking cancer research for the past two years. Being involved with different campus organizations including Sandspur, ODK, and CAC has given me the opportunity to meet people committed to service and leadership. My hobbies include photography, art (although I haven't had much time to indulge in it), reading and rollerblading.

School Spirit.

When he's not on the Sandspur Field he is always up to something completely wacky. Whether it's donning the outfit of a cheerleader or leading the crowd at basketball games to get into school spirit, Kenny Bonnett has become a legend on this small campus.

A Deltona, Florida resident, Kenny has also been involved with many other activities, groups, and events on campus. He has organized a beach volleyball tournament for many years and has been a resident assistant for three years. A sociology major, Kenny has definately been planning for the future after graduation. He plans to get his company, "Dreadhead," which designs t-shirts & other goods with his own personal logo for that will help children's soccer teams raise funds.

Administrative Assistants Can Make Our Day

Whether it's typing a memo or faxing an important letter, Administrative Assistants make our lives more easier. Without their help, energy, and patience, many departments would probably not be able to function on a day to day basis. Administrative Assistants Ruth Jackson (Foreign Languages), Teresita "Mimi" Fernandez (Latin American Studies), Helen Byrd (Anthropology/Sociology), Sonia Rivera (Student Affairs), Gloria Chandler-Gumbs (Student Affairs), and Mary Grabach (Education) are just six of the many assistants who have become very well known to many people on campus. Rollins for over a decade. Many of them find the interaction they have with students and faculty as being one of their top joys of the job. "My years at Rollins have provided me with the opportunity to be involved in the student's growth and maturity as they progress from freshman to seniors, and finally graduation," says Sonia Rivera. So whenever you are around, stop by to say hi. They'll be happy to assist you!

CHI OMEGA

HISTORY

Chi Omega, the largest national sorority, was founded at the University of Arkansas on April 5, 1895. The Upsilon Beta Chapter was started at Rollins in 1931 and has managed to become one of the largest and most recognizable groups on campus. Located at Corrin Hall, Chi Omega has been an active force in student athletics and activities. With over 60 members, Chi Omega distinctively made its mark on campus.

PHILANTHROPY

Chi Omega took part in the annual AIDS Walk this past fall. This event raised funds for AIDS research. Chi-Os also organized Operation Christmas Child, for which Chi-Os bought presents for Children in third world nations. Also, throughout the year, Chi-Os worked at the Winter Park Art Festival, babysat for children at the First Congregational Church, and volunteered at a carnival for under privileged children.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Chi Omegas held two black-tie formals during the school year. Annually, Chi Os join with Alpha Tau Omegas for the annual Grafitti Party.

Chi-Os held their Orange Crush Party at Park Ave. Grill. In addition, Chi -Os throw parties with several fraternities on campus.

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

HISTORY

The founding of Kappa Alpha Theta on January 27, 1870 at DePauw University marked the establishment of the first Greek letter fraternity among women. Since 1933, the Gamma Gamma chapter has been able to continue the tradition set forth by the original founders. Residing in Cross Hall, Kappa Alpha Theta continues to be a strong and energetic sorority that emphasizes the benefits of Greek life.

PHILANTHROPY

Along with Kappa Kappa Gamma, Kappa Alpha Theta sponsored the "Black and Blue" party, which benefited abused women. Many Thetas also participated in the Great Duck Race that took place at Wet & Wild this past spring. The event benefited various charities in the Orlando area. Kappa Alpha Theta also participated in the school's annual Halloween Howl festivities this past fall semester.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Kappa Alpha Theta held several social parites on campus with fraternities and other sororites. Like other sororities, Theta also had a crush party where each girl invited two guys, which makes the event more of a social. Kappa Alpha Theta also has an annual party with Chi Psi and the Rollins Outdoor Club.

KAPPA DELTA

HISTORY

On October 23, 1897, four young women at Longville College in Farmville, Virginia gathered together to create a strong sisterhood that would last forever. Ever since that day, Kappa Delta has managed to become one of the largest and fastest growing sororities in the United States. The Zeta Xi chapter, which was started in 1994, makes Kappa Delta the youngest sorority on our campus. Kappa Delta has proven that it is here to stay!

PHILANTHROPY

Kappa Delta participated in several community service events this year. From Halloween Howl to the Martin Luther King, Jr. Parade that was held in downtown Orlando, Kappa Delta has proven to be one of Rollins' most committed groups. Besides these events, Kappa Delta also sponsored a fund raising drive that benefited abused children shelters. With a generous heart and determination, Kappa Delta always helps.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Annuually, Kappa Delta and the Rollins Outdoor Club sponsored the annual Green Toad Party at Lyman Hall. The sorority also held a fall and spring formal, and participated in women's Rush. They also organized several activites with the KD's at UCF.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA

HISTORY

Since the Saturday morning in October of 1870, when six young collegiates entered the chapel at Monmouth College wearing golden keys which bore the letters KKG. Kappa Kappa Gamma has grown to become one of the top national sororities. The Delta Epsilon chapter on our campus continued to promote the importance of sisterhood and friendship, qualities that make this group strong.

PHILANTHROPY

In the fall, Kappa Kappa Gamma participated in Halloween Howl, Meals on Wheels, and held a car wash for the United Way. KKG also took part in the Golf Tournament for American Cancer Society, sponsored by Sigma Phi Epsilon. Kappas also raised money for the Great Duck Race, and could often be found helping with Alumni Phone-a-thons.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Many socials set the scene for members of Kappa Kappa Gamma to meet students on campus. In the fall, KKG held the Black and Blue formal with KAT, had a crush party, and their fall formal. Kappa's also organized the Mock Halloween party with Phi Delta Theta.

NON COMPIS MENTIS

HISTORY

In 1970, a group of enthusiastic women broke away from a national sorority, Pi Beta Phi, to establish a more progressive group of women. Now, twenty five years after becoming an independent local sorority, Non Compis Mentis continues to promote the ideals of the Greek system. Located in Mayflower Hall, Non Compis Mentis is a group where individualism is promoted.

PHILANTHROPY

Members of Non Compis Mentis participated in several community service projects this year. While some members babysat for professors, others started a food drive to benefit the many homeless people residing in the Orlando metropolitan area. The group seeks to become a major player in the area of community service like other sororities on campus.

SOCIAL EVENTS

NCM had several social events this year. In October, NCM along with Kappa Alpha Theta held a Halloween party at Mayflower Hall. The sorority also had a formal this spring. Rush was also a important time for many NCMers to get to know rushees. NCM, the Rollins Outdoor Club (ROC) and Kappa Delta also sponsored the second annual Green Toad Party at Lyman Hall.

PHI MU

HISTORY

Since its founding in 1852 at Wesleyan College in Macon, Georgia, Phi Mu has grown to a national membership of more than 100,000. In addition to being the nation's second oldest sorority, the Alpha Omega chapter is presently celebrating its 65th anniversary, making it the oldest sorority on campus. From the hallways of Fox Hall, Phi Mu has grown to become one of the most active sororities on campus.

PHILANTHROPY

When it comes to community service, Phi Mu has become an active group on campus. In the fall, the sorority staged a "topless carwash" in which the members refused to wash the tops of cars. This event, combined with the fact that Phi Mu won the Kappa Kappa Gamma award for the highest GPA among all sororities, has made the group very visible. Phi Mu has definitely been a pace-setter on campus. Phi Mu has always been a pace setter on campus.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Every sorority's busy schedule does not allow much time for socializing, however Phi Mu's found time to hold its spring formal in bers participated in the Greek and Student Leadership retreat that brought a diverse group of students together.

ALPHA TAU OMEGA

HISTORY

Founded on September 11, 1865 at the Virginia Military Institute in Lexington, Virginia, Alpha Tau Omega has become one of the oldest, largest, and most respected college fraternities in the United States. Since 1989, when thir-teen men brought the Iota Zeta chapter to campus, Alpha Tau Omega has continued to uphold the traditions & ideals instilled by its original founders.

PHILANTHROPY

Alpha Tau Omega have been an active group on campus. They annually contribute to the Halloween Howl festivities, that draw many local children to campus. Every October, Strong Hall is transformed into a virtual haunted house where children and students alike get to enjoy the holiday in style. Members have also been active with the Baltic Outreach, and held a car wash benefiting the Make-A-Wish foundation.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Annually, ATO joined with the sisters of Chi Omega to throw their famous Grafitti party. Also, Alpha Tau Omega has a black-tie fall formal, no-theme party with Theta, MORP party--dates only, swamp party with Chi-O, and a Spring semester formal.

CHI PSI

HISTORY

After its founding on May 20, 1841 at Union College in Schenectady, New York, Chi Psi has managed to become a distinguishable group of men that strive for the common goal of excellence. The Alpha Mu Delta chapter, along with 29 other active chapters throughout the United States, has brought a unique environment to campus where members develop a sense of unity and brotherhood.

PHILANTHROPY

Chi Psi held a benefit party for the United Way at the Croc Club this past fall. The party, which was a major success, attracted many students and raised a substantial amount of money for charitable purposes. Other members continued to consult students at the Writing Center, while one brother, Tony Konkol, was one of two students selected to teach English in Okinawa, Japan through the new Rollins-Okinawa exchange program.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Throughout the year, Chi Psi organized successful parties on and off campus. They threw the United Way Benefit party, 70's Bash, and the Block party with Kappa Kappa Gamma and ROC. Chi Psi also had Christmas and Spring formals.

PHI DELTA THETA

HISTORY

Founded on December 26, 1848 at Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, Phi Delta Theta has become one of the largest fraternities in the United States. In 1934, the Florida Beta chapter made its debut on the Rollins campus.

Found in the halls of Rex Beach Hall, Phi Deltas have been able to live by the principles on which the fraternity was founded. Known for their suits and ties, Phi Delta Theta have proven to be true gentlemen.

PHILANTHROPY

This year, Phi Delta Theta committed its time in several community service activities. One of them was a charity golf tournament that brought other Greek groups together for an important cause. The funds went to the American Cancer Society. Phi Delta's also worked in the local soup kitchen. Many also volunteered at a local children's center, lending a hand whenever they can.

SOCIAL EVENTS

The brothers of Phi Delta Theta kept busy on campus by hosting several social activities on campus. Some popular parties include Purple Jesus, and their Christmas formal. Phi Delta's also had an annual Spring Weekend at Indian River Plantation. Men's rush also allowed many Phi Deltas to socialize with rushees.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

HISTORY

Founded on November 1, 1901 at the University of Richmond, Virginia, Sigma Phi Epsilon has become one of the largest and strongest fraternities in the United States. In 1967, the Florida Eta chapter came into existence on our campus. Since then, the brothers of Sigma Phi Epsilon have continued the founding traditions of the fraternity. Chase Hall has been the center of activity for many years.

PHILANTHROPY

The brothers of Sigma Phi Epsilon have been active in our community by participating in the daily bread. Also, the brothers hosted a Greek wide golf tournament, with proceeds going to the American Cancer society. Sigma Phi Epsilon also took part in the annual Winter Park Festival by volunteering during the weekend. The fraternity has also been actively involved in the Halloween Howl festival every year.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Sigma Phi Epsilon has an annual party called "Mind Funk.," which is always a success. This year, the fraternity sponsored the Super Tyrone concert that was held on the Sandspur Field. Sigma Phi Epsilon also had a formal during the school year.

TAU KAPPA EPSILON

HISTORY

The Zeta Pi chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon has been an active fraternity on campus since 1959. The values of Tau Kappa Epsilon, which was founded at Illinois Wesleyan University on January 10, 1899 continue on our campus. The brothers of TKE celebrate their traditions on the Tau Kappa Epsilon floor in Elizabeth Hall. Down on the floor, brotherhood and the bonds created will always last a lifetime.

PHILANTHROPY

Many TKEs took time from class to volunteer at several area soup kitchens. Several members also took time to volunteer in Habitat for Humanity projects in the Winter Park area and in the Dominican Republic. In addition

TKE adopted a highway, volunteered at the Daily Bread, hosted the TKE/XΩ Sexual Assault Awareness Benefit, and took part in Halloween Howl. TKE received the 1996 Public Service Award

SOCIAL EVENTS

TKE held several theme parties in the fall. Some of the themes which included Crash back to the Eighties, Lynch party, the first annual pajama party, and the Pimp and Prostitute party. TKE held its fall formal at Longboat Key. TKE's were also known for their popular wine-tasting parties, held in both the fall and spring.

X-CLUB

HISTORY

Established in 1929, X-Club is the oldest fraternity on campus and is the oldest local fraternity in the United States. Unlike many other fraternities, X-Clubbers are not subject to social or financial restrictions that are common among national fraternities. The members strive to keep their traditions alive on our campus. X-Club is definitely a unique fraternity within the Rollins' Greek system.

PHILANTHROPY

X-Club stayed involved with the community in several ways. They volunteered for the American Cancer Society and for the Central Florida Children's Home. Some Clubbers studied abroad in Australia for a semester, while yet another participated in the schools theatre productions. Some also took time to participate in other community service projects in the Orlando area.

SOCIAL EVENTS

X-Club members liked hosting social events on and off campus. Some of their parties included the Halloween Bash at the Croc Club, the X-Club/KKG Bahama Mama, Casino Night at the Park Avenue Grill, and Reggae Night at Pugsley Hall.

UN-FROZEN

Wow, Its over. Im saying this minutes after finishing 252 pages almost entirely by myself. Anyway, let me get to what I have to say. First of all I will like to thank the four people who made this book a reality when it seem that I was in the most dismal of times. Jean Henry, Iara Peng, Linda Sitek, and Drew Williams, you guys are the best! If it was not for your assistance and your creative energies, no one would have a copy of this book in their hands now. This book is dedicated to the four of you! Todd B.: Crabby you still are, yet you're still a great friend. By the way what happened to that %$#@*& Simpsons tape? Hope you try to find some time in '96-'97 to spend more time with your friends of '94-'95. Lil' Brian: MIA. Where the hell are you? I still remember when you got an eyeful of Veronica at the Leadership Retreat, and who can't forget that weekend with Kiet, Kim, Vanessa. The worst part of that night was when our party was crashed by Mama (aka Martha Dumptruck, aka Heavy D). Kiet: Tuan? Ok, enough about that. Hope that everything goes well for you in Chicago. Matt W.: MA!. Tomas: My favorite Irish friend! Hanging out with you DB, and Eric M. was the best (especially when you are drunk)! DB: MA!, runs to ABC, I'll see you in Mahopac very soon! Melanson: Not another beer! really I'm trying to cut back. Yolaine: I'm working on my French. Be careful with your hand next time. Say hi to Ben. Leigh: We definately had a great time in Vargas' class. "Wanna break a wave dude?". Annie: From LASA treasurer to SGA comptroller, Wow! Hanging out with you at the house with Danitza on weekends was great! Linda Sitek: Koo Bloo Koo Aid in Skoo. "So L.T. is going to University of Miami Law School? Really? That was the alma mater of Unfrozen Caveman Lawyer, so I guess they have really easy admission standards. The legal world must be quaking in their pants." I miss Sensei very much. She gave so much personality to the '95 edition, and we can't forget Evans! Evans! Evans! Sharon: "Charon, shockolit ship cookies are avaiable at the chopping mall." We survive POL 321! Cherry Surplees and Bacardi are a great mix. Boylan: "BUN IN THE OVEN!", You're the best "Big Red!". Keep in touch. Alyssa: Aruba defiantly rules. "Remember Taryn lost because of a conspiracy between Bonaire and Curacao!" Are you still on America On Line? I told you that you will be an addict in days. No more gifs, or else your computer's memory will explode! Best rollerblader in town. I'll see you in Oranjestad some day.. Suzy:

No more 40+ single space papers for Valdes. No more Beans Food either!

Leslie: More fun times just like the time at the Super Tyrone Concert!

Damien: My partner in crime. To you I leave you my first novel when it is published.

Kenny B. I would have put your picture on my page but you're on so many so far. Carlos: Another night just like the first time we met at the Rio Bravo. Gonna miss your crabby moods also! Just dont touch my CD's.

Michelle S-R: Gonna miss you at Elizabeth. We are free from the crookstore. Yes you heard me right! Lets have more fun times like that night at Rio Bravo. Jean Henry: Best Herff Jones rep on this earth. Hope your '96-'97 is a good year for you! You're the best Jean! Thanks for everything! Ruth: You' are great! Gonna miss you at student activities. Blake, Maureen, Saif, Gloria, Penny, Melissa, and Ray: Thanks for making Student Activities such a great office. Anthro/LACA Dept.: Thanks for all your help guys!

Ann, Jessica, and the rest of Phi Mu: Thanks for having your doors open to me, and Stiskin, and Trevor! Pascale: I though I was hallucinating in the fall when I saw you in all my classes that first day of classes. We had the same schedule, Deja Vu, huh? Valenta: Don't worry, I'll be there to help you with any problems with your computer. Hernan, Brad, Bart, Zane, and Blake: Run, for you are free as the wind and free from Valdes courses. Run faster than Mexican water through a first time tourist. Run! Kappa Delta: Great bunch of girls. I promise no more photos on your floor. Campus Saftey & Ernie: Thanks for all your help this year! Mail Clerks: Thanks for handling the bulks of incoming and outgoing mail that I received and send. Shelby: I told you I was going to print that photo! Sonia: Thanks for everything. I love ya! Jeannette: When are you coming back? Angela: Best neighbor at Elizabeth! Got to show me how to make a Bahama Mama. Vanessa G & Kim G.: You guys were the best during the leadership retreat. More beer runs to sevie! So what's Victoria's Secret? Vanessa I heard Mambo King has a crush on you. "Ju know babee!" Jen Thompson: A great person and human being, You are simply great. Gonna miss you! Penelope, Alisa, and Stacy: Thanks for making the third floor a great place to

MY TOP TEN SAYINGS

Satisfaction

As you look back on yesterday,
may your memories be warm.
As you enjoy today,
may your heart be filled with happiness.
As you look ahead to tomorrow,
may your fondest hopes and dreams come true.

Life to you, Kimberly, is a Beautiful Beach...over which these feet will cross...May the Sand be smooth as Silk, never a stone too big to thwart your way...May the Wind be going your way...and your burden be light...And if the wind changes the load heavy and stones appear...May the Lord lead the way through the stormy times and help carry the load...Go forth to do his work and may all who meet you enjoy the beauty you hold in your heart and the gifts you Have to Offer!

All Our Love,

God Bless You!

IN HONOR of MATT Pfohl

There is a funny old saying, one that says,
If you don't ride a bicycle,
you don't fall off!"

What it meansto say, of course, is if you do put a lot of energy into something,
you are bound to make mistakes;
and if you take a lot of risks,
you are bound to tumble here and there.

But remember this: that if you persist,
you will arrive at the destination of your choice.
And if you do occasionally fall in the process,
you'll learn much more than if you don't.
So try, and so, and discover all that you can be.

And take me with you...
in spirit, as you go,
so you'll know that I'll always be beside you wishing for nothing but the best.

Congratulations
Mom, Dad and family

How to Really be Alive

Live Juicy. Stamp out conformity. Stay in bed all day. Dream of Gypsy Wagons. find snails making love. Develop an astounding appetite for books.

DRINK SUNSETS. Draw out your feelings. Amaze yourself.

Be Ridiculous. STOP WORRYING. NOW. If not now, then when?

Make YES your favorite word. Marry yourself. Dry your clothes in the sun. Eat mangoes naked. Keep toys in the bathtub.

Spin yourself dizzy. Hang upside down. Follow a child.

Celebrate an old person. Send a love letter to yourself.

BE ADVANCED. Try endearing. invent new ways to love.

transform negatives. Delight someone. wear pajamas to a drive in movie. Allow yourself to feel rich without money. Be who you truly are and the money will follow.

BELIEVE IN EVERYTHING.

YOU ARE ALWAYS ON YOUR WAY TO A MIRACLE.

THE MIRACLE IS YOU!

Best Wishes
bug
and the class of 1996!

With Love,
The Pooles

Colophon

for the 1996 Tomokan

The cover was embossed on matte black leather with black silkscreen and a rectangular die cut. The board weight was 160 point. The trim size of the book was 9'x12'. The book was Smyth sewn with rounding and backing and headbands.

Endsheets were four color. The photograph was taken by Jeff Botz of Thornton Studios.

The paper stock used throughout the book was 80 lb. Ermine. There were 264 pages in the book. Four color and spot color were used for the Campus Life section. The primary typefaces were Soutane and Optane. Headlines were usually set in 36 point, body copy in 12 point, captions in 10 point, and folios in 8 point. Typefaces varied for headlines, including Amphion, Anastasia, Arena Condensed, Brush Hand, Brush Script, Cookie, Cookie Hollow, Halloween, Gaelic, Graverplate, Koffee, Liddie, Liddie Black, Palatino, Minstrel, Salsa, Stencil Sans, and Tango Regular.

PageMaker 5.0, along with Herff Jones template program PageMaster, was used for the layout of the publication. Herff Jones printed 500 copies at their Montgomery, Alabama plant. Jean Henry was the local representative, and Debbie Kennedy was the customer service adviser in Montgomery.

Senior and underclassmen photographs were taken by Thornton Studios located in New York, New York. Some candid photographs were provided by the Public Relations Office, courtesy of Larry Humes. Most candid and profile photographs were taken by Luis Hernandez '97. Sports photographs were provided by the Athletics Department, courtesy of Fred Battenfield.

Advertising was contracted with Scholastic Advertising, Inc. of Atlanta, Georgia.

The 1996 Tomokan sold for $25 in advance. The Tomokan has an office on the third tier of the Mills Memorial Center. The office phone number is (407) 646-1594 and the campus box number is 2542. The Tomokan's e-mail address is tomokan@rollins.edu.
